Welcome to e-word!

e-word is a concept learning centre open for everyone who wants to learn, who searches for new ideas, wishes to meet creative people and in that way contributes to the world around us. The idea of this learning centre is providing the best possible quality of education, pleasant and private atmosphere, exchange of knowledge. Our main goal is to give the atmosphere in which everyone feels free to explore, discover and advance. Our team is there to offer a unique experience of learning in a way that is most efficient. We are all different, some learn better by listening, some are visual types, some like to read... As such, we are all individuals in a group – we think in a unique way, but work best together, in a constant exchange of ideas.

Our approach is not only in teaching, but it is also about connecting with each student, listening to how each student learns forming an individual approach and paying special attention to details. All that makes us a boutique school, a place for discovering knowledge.

AUTHOR'S NOTE

Ivana Marinković

Dear Serbian language learners,
I would like to thank you for embarking on a journey of learning a new language and with it the history, culture, and customs of Serbia.

SUPER BRAVO was named by my students who found it interesting that I tried to encourage them by frequently using these two words. These two words are also in Serbian language vocabulary and are quite frequently used. Thank you students!

The idea of writing a Serbian language textbook was born in 2010, after a couple of years of teaching Serbian as a second language. It was very hard to find any material to teach absolute beginners and not to jump directly into deep waters. After some time, I realised that I had a lot of learning material scattered around my computer which I could put together in a modest booklet. In 2012, Serbian Language for Complete Beginners came to life. My colleagues and I have used the booklet since 2012 successfully as a very reliable base for further teaching at the beginner's level.

SUPER BRAVO is now a more advanced edition with many more activities, more topics, and learning materials, both in a class and as a self-study aid. Also, this time, instead of audio, the book is supported by video lessons.

The method of teaching used in this textbook is far from traditional. It is our goal to present new knowledge in a creative and visually stimulating way. I believe that people learn the best when really exposed to a language. Therefore, at the core of SUPER BRAVO teaching strategy are games, dialogues, visual associations and practical language.

SUPER BRAVO is a unique textbook for another reason - you may choose one or both Serbian language scripts as the book is written in both scripts side by side. Also, every single word, sentence, page... is translated into English, right next to the Serbian language page. Students do not need a notebook as there is also space for notes. The reason for having such a structure is the wish for students to have everything in one place, structured chunks of information, structured thoughts that make room for a creative and practical use of language. I believe that if knowledge is organised, we can use it freely and creatively.

So, have fun, relax, enjoy, and the book will lead you.
SUPER BRAVO!
